

The Flagstaff Chapter of Great Old Broads for Wilderness and the Grand Canyon Trust present:

KEEP IT IN THE GROUND: SAY NO MORE TO URANIUM MINING NEAR THE GRAND CANYON

Presentation and Discussion
Free and Open to the Public

Thursday, November 5
6–7:30 pm

Firecreek Coffee Company
22 E Rte 66
Flagstaff, AZ 86001

Join us to learn the history of uranium mines, toxic sites that have been polluting our public lands, air, and water for more than a century—and continue to contaminate the Grand Canyon region and other unique and sensitive landscapes.

Meet others who are passionate about conservation and the sustainability of our community's health.

Learn what you can do to oppose toxic uranium mining and protect the Grand Canyon and other public lands.

Guest Speakers Anne Mariah Tapp and Roger Clark of the Grand Canyon Trust Land and Energy Programs

Broads Coffee Hour
Friday, November 6 • 10 am
Firecreek Coffee Company

Join the Flagstaff Broadband to learn more about local efforts, leadership opportunities, and ways to get involved.

Contact: Lauren Berutich at lauren@greatoldbroads.org or 928-699-0183

Great Old
Broads
For Wilderness

Get Into The Wild

Great Old Broads for Wilderness is a national non-profit organization that engages and ignites the activism of elders to preserve and protect wilderness & wild lands for future generations.

greatoldbroads.org

GRAND CANYON TRUST

The Grand Canyon Trust has worked tirelessly since 1985 to protect the air, water, and wildlife of the Colorado Plateau: from slickrock canyons, to fragile deserts, to the largest contiguous ponderosa pine forest in North America.

grandcanyontrust.org