

— save the date —

WILD WAYS: CORRIDORS OF LIFE

THURSDAY May 19th 7 PM
The Electric Theater
St. George

Engaging Reception @ 7 pm
Film @ 7:45 pm
$5-10 Suggested Donation

WILD WAYS is a ground breaking film on the challenges of preserving biodiversity on an ever more crowded planet. While national parks and preserves offer some protection, even the magnificent Serengeti and Yellowstone parks have become islands of nature in a human dominated landscape. This isolation means extinction for the world's iconic wildlife - lions, tigers, elephants, wolves, and grizzly bears - unless we share more space with wildlife.

WILD WAYS demonstrates how some of the world's most beloved species can be preserved by linking the world's wildlife refuges with safe highway crossings and protected land corridors. From North America's Yellowstone to Yukon, to Southern Africa's elephant highways stretching across five nations, learn how connectivity conservation offers hope to some of our planet's most cherished - but endangered - species.

DIRECTOR James Brundige

WRITER Linda Harrar

PRODUCER Chelsea Congdon Brundige