

Why participate?

The more you are in touch with public lands, the greater your appreciation.

Each day on the trail brings an unexpected surprise – a new flower or tree, a bird you never noticed, maybe a fox or deer – one never knows.

Invite a partner or two to join you on the trail and discover something about them you never knew.

Meditate on a summit, finding a clear view of your trail ahead.

It's FUN!

BROADS VIEW! 2020 HIKING

CHALLENGE - discover something unexpected

Kick-off: June 6, Final Challenge: October 17

Presented by the Greater Wasatch Broadband of Utah

- Individual or group challenge
- Track miles hiked, trails explored, total vertical, summits reached, trash collected, money donated
- Post your challenge on the Blog and update your results

It is simple to get started! Send your name and email address to greatwasatch@gmail.com and you'll be added to the challenge list.

Challenge Examples: Barbara McConvill, Co-leader GWB

Along with my husband Mike and our two dogs, we are going to explore every trail that is under the Trails Foundation of Northern Utah umbrella (Mike is a new board member). There are almost 70 of them. On each outing we will collect trash and for each day of adventure we will donate equally to Great Old Broads and Trails Foundation. Each month we will write a personal note to one of the entities involved with the trails, thanking them for their efforts. We hope to do the last hike of the season with lots of trail challenge participants!

Di Allison and Janifer Larson, Co-leaders, GWB

Ascension of Lewis Peak is our Challenge. Jan anticipates knee surgery in June and will train with Di and others to be able to meet the challenge in October! We will hike trails in Utah, Idaho and Montana during the summer to prepare for Lewis Peak. Come join us! Here is a link to an article that highlights their motivation for hiking this trail.
